

ABSTRACT

A size of a partition to be created on a storage device is limited to a size of m to n -th power, where m and n are natural numbers. In creation of the partition, a partition management execution unit 102 is set
5 to dispose the partition from a sector aligned with a size of the partition itself. Thus, utilization efficiency of the storage device can be improved.

1003457 1003457